About the Journal

The 'Journal of Constitutional and Parliamentary Studies' is a peer reviewed and refereed journal; contributions received for consideration for publication are reviewed by domain experts nominated on the Board of Reviewers. The journal is intended to serve as an international forum to discuss the problems, processes and prospects of parliamentary democracy and legislative institutions in India and abroad and become a vehicle of advanced and specialized studies in comparative constitutional law and parliamentary procedures. The journal is not committed to any particular political ideology or party. It provides an objective and independent forum for expression of diverse viewpoints and perspectives. Contributions for the journal are invited from persons belonging to different walks of life: legislators, jurists, political scientists, academicians and lawyers. Contributions should be sent through e-mail at 'journals-icps@sansad.nic.in'. A uniform pattern of footnotes as per Chicago style of referencing should be followed. Contributions simultaneously sent for publication elsewhere will not be entertained. Contributors must send the plagiarism check (similarity index) report generated by Turnitin software along with the manuscript. Manuscripts having similarity index as per the extant regulations will be accepted.
