About the Author

Rabindranath Tagore

Rabindranath Tagore (7 May 1861 – 7 August 1941) is a world-renowned poet, writer, novelist, essayist and artist known for creating works that bridged the gap between common people and those sitting at the highest echelons of power in India in pre-Independence years. His works mark the onset of modernism in literature and art, and he was also awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1913 for his exemplary contribution.

Product Description

Songs of Kabir (1915), translated by Rabindranath Tagore, is an anthology of poems by the 15th-century Indian spiritual master Kabir. The poems were collected by Kshitimohan Sen from both written and oral sources. Tagore worked with Evelyn Underhill on the book, which includes translations from an unpublished version of 116 songs by Ajit Kumar Chakravarty. The collection has been translated into Persian and Kurdish. While the language of the English version is now archaic, updated translations by Robert Bly and David Masterman are available.
